

Homecoming Is In Full Swing

MANY VISITORS ARRIVING EVERY DAY

With banners flying, Grayling's first Homecoming is in full swing. Many guests have been here and gone after renewing old acquaintances and visiting familiar spots of by-gone days. But it looks as though the next few days was going to cap the climax for crowds, as many visitors are arriving daily.

The weather has been ideal and there is activity everywhere.

Band Picnic

There was a large crowd in Grayling last Sunday to attend the band picnic, when the bands from Gaylord, Beaverton, Cheboygan, Charlevoix, Kalkaska, and Grayling, accompanied by their families enjoyed the mid-summer get-together. The individual concert was played at noon, when each band played two numbers of their own selection. Then there was the picnic dinner, following which the bands assembled for the street parade. Lining up at the park, some distance between each other playing the number of their own choice, they marched down Michigan avenue to the depot. Returning they massed and rendered the beautiful number "Religioso." Arriving at the park the massed concert took place, during which the business meeting was held. All officers elected were members of the Charlevoix band and that place was chosen for the next picnic which will be held in August.

During the course of the concert, Mayor Chris W. Olsen in his friendly manner addressed the gathering. There was a large crowd out to greet the bands and the concerts were highly enjoyable.

The Pet And Bicycle Parade

Taking part in the pet and bicycle parade Wednesday afternoon several boys and girls won prizes for their efforts. It took place at 2:00 o'clock and the youngsters marched from Shoppenagons Inn and up main street.

Prizes were awarded as follows: First, second and third prizes for nicest decorated bicycles went to Vernon Rasmussen, Billieann Clippert and Jack Hull.

Prize for most comical bicycle was won by Roy Milnes Jr., who made a hit in cowboy dress.

Junior-Trudeau captured the prize for the nicest float. He had his wagon dolled up in the national colors and his two rattier dogs rode in a bird cage. He himself was dressed as a clown.

Junior Gannon with his big dog won the prize for the largest pet, and Bobby Ryan the prize for the smallest pet which was a turtle.

Charles Fletcher had his dog dressed up in rags and won the prize for the most comical pet.

To top it off there was a dog fight in the midst of the parade, but the mongrels were parted and all lived happily ever after.

Mrs. Frank Barnett, A. J. Nelson, and George Burke were the judges, and Earl Hewitt chairman of the Homecoming parade committee, put it on.

Homecoming Ball

The Homecoming ball at the school gymnasium last evening was an elaborate affair. The crowd was not as large as expected, but those who were there had a most enjoyable time. Very clever decorations in all the colors of the rainbow were arranged to give the ballroom a most festive air. Dancing to the beautiful strains of music furnished by Paul Zimm and his 12-piece orchestra made a pleasant evening for home folks and visitors alike. During the evening an exceptionally clever program of musical numbers and dances were presented by the orchestra and its all-girl revue, consisting of Hawaiian, Rumba dances and other specialties. Miss Loren Nevelle in the Sleeve dance was marvelous.

The big street parade is due for this afternoon, and for the remainder of the week the program will be carried out as scheduled.

Tomorrow, Friday afternoon, will be the dedication of the Hartwick Memorial pines, and the program of the afternoon appears elsewhere.

Saturday afternoon is the Regimental review at Camp Grayling and the round-up day for 10th district Legionnaires.

Saturday night there will be fireworks at the Carnival grounds at 11:00.

Sunday night there will be dancing at Horseshoe Lake pavilion with music by Tim Doolittle, WJR barn dance orchestra.

Prizes Awarded Oldtimers

For the oldest Homecoming back to Grayling to attend the homecoming Rev. Peter Kjolhede, of Grant, Michigan, former pastor of the Danish Lutheran church takes the prize. He is 91 years old and was pastor of the local church 23 years. During that time he endeared himself to the members of his congregation, as well as Grayling people in general. He is a grand old man and was truly welcome home again, and he said he was glad to be here.

For the Homecoming traveling the greatest distance to attend homecoming Mrs. John R. Olsen of Southgate, Calif., is the winner. However it was close for she and Mrs. Lipman Landsberg (Fedora Montour), who lives three miles closer to home here. The Olsen family were residents of Grayling for several years.

Mrs. Hanson R. Bay of Corvallis, Montana takes the cake as the homecoming having been away from Grayling the longest time and is here. Mrs. Bay came to Grayling direct from Denmark 55 years ago and left two years later for Manistee to reside. She says she remembers very well the little log school she first attended in Grayling. She has been a frequent visitor here since leaving and has made 31 trips back to her native home, Denmark. Mrs. Bay is a sister of the late Rasmusson and Mrs. Lars Rasmussen and in her maiden days was Johanna Hanson.

Other Homecomers

Henry Green of Flint, a resident here 40 years ago.

Mrs. H. E. Youngman, Rockford, Ill., resorting at Higgins Lake.

Mrs. Otto Kramer, Rockford.

The dedication of the Edward E. Hartwick Memorial Pines park Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock promises to be one of the most important events of the week's homecoming program. Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald will give the dedication address and will be assisted on the program by prominent members of the Department of Conservation. Also a battalion of infantry of the 32d division Michigan National Guard will participate in the formalities of the event.

Given to the state of Michigan several years ago, the Hartwick Pines, one of the last stands of virgin pine in Michigan, will be dedicated during the Grayling homecoming week. A view of the Pines is shown in the picture above. The dedication ceremonies will take place in front of "The Big Stick" shown above, largest of the trees in the park. "Rube Babbitt, whose name has become almost a legend in the AuSable country, is shown standing beside the giant pine.

Herbert Smith, Battle Creek.

Welling Stanley, Battle Creek.

Mrs. Joseph Letzkus and daughter Miss Margaret, of Bay City. Mrs. Letzkus was formerly Goldie Pond.

B. A. Gier, Lansing.

Ray Ruffey, Roscommon.

Roy E. Case, Lansing, now with M. N. G. at Camp Grayling.

C. Mortenson, Louisville, Kentucky.

Mrs. Emma Charlefour, Mrs. B. Steadman and Mrs. McKinnon, Black River.

There is a long list, but others are mentioned elsewhere in the paper.

Among those former citizens of Grayling who were here for the homecoming is Mr. Cornelius Mortenson of Louisville, Ky. He came to Grayling from Denmark with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Mortenson in 1896. He attended Grayling schools and recalls that Miss Benson and Miss Vorhees were his teachers. His father worked for Salling Hanson Co. and later was manager of the Nels Michelson farm at Houghton Lake. At present Mr. Mortenson is president of the Standard Milk Machinery Co. of Louisville, Ky., manufacturers of milk pasteurizing plants. Some of the largest dairies in America are operated with Mortenson equipment. Mr. Mortenson tells interesting stories of his experiences in Grayling while still a small boy and prizes as one of his possessions a bow and arrow that was made for him by Chief Shoppenagons.

LA GROW-SORENSEN

Miss Lois Sorenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sorenson and Mr. William LaGrow, son of Mrs. Anna LaGrow were united in marriage at St. Mary's rectory by Rev. Fr. James Maloney Monday morning. The ceremony took place at 10:30 o'clock and Miss Muriel DeLaMater as bridesmaid and Joseph Kessler as groomsman attended the young couple.

The bride was pretty in a gown of poudre blue silk crepe made with a three-quarter length jacket of the same material, and she carried an arm bouquet of deep-toned roses. Her bridesmaid was gowned in white crepe made with a three-quarter length jacket and her corsage was pink roses.

Following the ceremony the bridal party enjoyed a dinner at Shoppenagons Inn. The young couple have already gone to housekeeping in one of the Hanson apartments where they are at home to their friends. Both the bride and groom were born in this county and are graduates of Grayling high school of the class of '33 and are popular with their friends. Congratulations and best wishes are extended for a long and happy wedded life.

Local Power Co. Improves Service

Patrons of the Michigan Public Service Company will no doubt be pleased to learn of many local improvements being recently made by this utility.

Along with a rate reduction which will save thousands of dollars annually, the local company has doubled the primary transformer capacity by the installation of three 100 KVA General Electric transformers at the local plant and have recently completed the installation of two 25 KVA transformers in the business section which will permit a greater use of electric service in all parts of the town in general and in the downtown business section in particular.

To bolster this lower end of their 80 mile, 11,000 volt high-line, a new step-up transformer has been recently installed at Gaylord which will hold up this end of the line and eliminate much of the drop which can be expected in a long stretch of line.

Some of the fluctuations occurring in the past week were caused by changes and adjustments necessary to put the new equipment in proper operating order after which service will be very much improved.

Thousands of dollars have been expended and the engineering department has applied much thought and work on Grayling during the past weeks and patrons will notice a considerable general betterment when the work is completed.

SERA NOTES

E. K. A. CANNING DEMONSTRATIONS TO BE GIVEN IN TOWNSHIP SCHOOL HOUSES

Canning demonstrations will be given in the schoolhouses throughout the county. The latest methods in canning will be demonstrated.

Local merchants are cooperating and have donated door prizes, etc., for each separate demonstration. Everyone interested in canning is invited.

Watch for dates for your township in next week's Avalanche. Mrs. Laura Olson, Admx.

INSTALL WESTERN UNION CLOCKS

The Western Union Telegraph Company has just completed installation of nine Western Union clocks at various points in the city which insures absolute correct time for those enterprising concerns who have subscribed to this service. These are the first Western Union clocks ever in Grayling and indicates that the city is modernizing even to time service.

Clocks have been installed at the following places: Lon Collett's; F. J. Mills; Orel Levan's; Peter Lovely's; A. & P.; Chris Olsen's; Jas. Bugby's; Harold McNeven's and Schweitzer & Wilson's.

MANY MOTHERS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF CHILD CLINIC

The infant and preschool clinic held at Grayling on July 12 by the Child Health committee was very well attended and went smoothly due to the efforts of Mrs. J. L. Martin, Mrs. Geo. Hillton, Mrs. Albert Knibbs and Mrs. Lee Jorgenson, who gave their services that afternoon.

The babies and preschool children were found to be in exceptionally good condition—and Dr. Laughbaum stated that the babies score (6 mo. to 2 yrs.) averaged 100% over those he had recently examined. It could easily be seen that Grayling parents were interested in their children's health by the large percentage of mothers who had their children vaccinated and given diphtheria toxoid.

An infant and pre-school clinic will also be held at Frederic school on Monday, July 22 from 1 to 4 p. m., sponsored by the committee from that district.

Nat. Guard Review Saturday, July 20

The annual review of the Michigan National Guard by the Governor and General Wilson and his staff officers will be held on Saturday again this year, the same as was done last year. This event in former years was held on Sunday and visited by from 10,000 to 15,000 people. The change in dates last year was somewhat confusing but it is hoped that by this time the public will understand the change in days.

Governor Fitzgerald and other state officers are expected to be in camp for the review. And in the evening there will be held at the Officers Club house a formal reception for the Governor.

The parade of the several guard regiments as they parade before the reviewing officers is always a colorful affair and is attended by people from all parts of the state. It will begin promptly at 2:00 o'clock p. m.

LADIES AUXILIARY GIVE BRIDGE, TEA

A very colorful and delightful bridge tea was given at the Golf Club house Wednesday afternoon, with the ladies of the Ladies Auxiliary as hostesses.

Tables were filled for bridge on the veranda and inside the club house making a lovely setting for the gay crowd in their summer frocks.

Prizes were given for the high score at each table as well as door and draw prizes. Mrs. James Olson of Clare held the lucky number for the door prize and Mrs. Halford Kittelman of Chicago won the draw prize.

Mrs. Geo. Kraus was general chairman of the affair and she and her committee were responsible for the success of the party.

A large number of Grayling ladies drove down for the tea and many other outside guests were in attendance which added to the pleasure of the afternoon.

HOMECOMING is one of the privileges and thrills that can come only to those who have been away from the old home town for some time and come back to mingle again among those old friends who are here to greet them. To those old-timers who are here this week, we offer our hearty greetings. May they meet again those boys and girls of yesteryear and enjoy together a reunion that will bring back memories of happy events of their pasts. Isn't it great? And how happy our home people are to see you again and listen to the experiences that have been yours since leaving Grayling. We are indeed grateful to those young men of Grayling Post 106 of the American Legion who have made this event possible. They have worked hard and well in their plans for the event and they deserve credit for the splendid manner in which they have accomplished the task. If there have been any mistakes made, let's forget them and only remember the bright spots. William McCullough and family have Mrs. McCullough's father J. A. Grant of Detroit as their guest at their cottage this week. Mrs. Grant and daughter Miss Julia, and Jimmy Higgins both returned Tuesday after visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayotte of Munising are guests of the former's brother Edward Mayotte, arriving Monday night. The young couple were married in Munising Monday morning and are here for their honeymoon. The bride was formerly Miss Violet Raymond.

Quite a number of people, especially some who are here for the homecoming, have been wondering whether they might visit the Wolf Farm, the property that was formerly the Charles Blair place near the Lake road bridge. Mrs. Wolf says that the place will be open for visitors at from 2 to 6 p. m. daily when there will be attendants to show visitors around. Since this property has come into possession of Mr. and Mrs. Wolf it has been made into a very interesting museum, showing many pictures and articles that take one's thoughts back to the lumbering days of this part of Michigan. Also there are many other articles and pictures that point back to days of old that are interesting to see. The public is welcome to visit the place at any time during the above hours.

The guest speaker at the Kiwanis meeting Wednesday evening was Col. Samuel Pepper of Port Huron, judge advocate of Michigan National Guard. Col. Pepper is past deputy attorney general of Michigan serving as such under Attorney General Grant Fellows. Col. Pepper gave a resume of the early activities of Michigan Guard—beginning the days before the Guard had a permanent training camp. Due to perseverance and sacrifice of those early officers Michigan Guard is now a military unit of outstanding merit. He praised the citizens of Grayling for their vision in bringing the camp to Grayling. It has meant much to Grayling and also to the Michigan National Guard. It is just such clubs as the Kiwanis clubs with its memberships of business and professional people who think seriously about the problems that pertain to the welfare of the people and their communities that are going to play important parts in the affairs of government. The meeting was held at the Mrs. Holger Schmidt home.

Mrs. Amos Hunter and son Rex are spending a couple of weeks down the river, guests of Mrs. Hunter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stephan.

Miss Ethel Taylor is home from Binghamton, N. Y., enjoying a week's vacation, attending the homecoming and visiting her father Floyd Taylor and other relatives. Miss Taylor is employed in the L. S. Hamlin Inc. drug store there. She is entertaining Lloyd Pickett of Alpena.

A Story Of Grand Hotel On Mackinac Island

As promised in our last issue's story of the Michigan Press summer outing at Mackinac Island, we publish below a story about Grand Hotel, the largest summer hotel in the world, located at the island. It reads as follows:

The Beginning

Senator Francis B. Stockbridge of Michigan purchased the site of the Grand Hotel in 1882. He wanted Michigan to have a great summer hotel and he vowed that he would hold the land until it was used for construction of the largest and finest summer hotel in the world.

Gurdon S. Hubbard, pioneer State Street merchant of Chicago, was the first to undertake promotion of the hotel, but his plans did not meet the high demands of Senator Stockbridge. Others followed with unimpressive plans, but the Senator turned them down. He wanted a big hotel.

John Oliver Plank was the country's leading resort operator at that time. He was operating three fashionable hotels in New England. His friend George Pullman urged him to undertake the Mackinac venture. Mr. Plank became interested and in 1887 he promoted and built the Grand Hotel. He was a large stockholder, lessee and general manager until he sold his interests in 1890.

Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt was the first stockholder. Other stockholders included high officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the New York Central Railroad Company, and the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company.

Some of the stockholders desired that the hotel be named "Hotel Vanderbilt." Others wanted an Indian name. Some thought Mr. Plank's name should be used. It was finally decided that Chauncey Depew should be delegated to select the name. He decided upon Grand Hotel but stipulated that as long as Mr. Plank managed it, he might advertise it as "Plank's" Grand Hotel.

The hotel opened on July 10, 1887. Among the guests arriving that day were Mrs. Potter Palmer and a group of friends from Chicago. As was often the custom of those days, her equipment included three teams, saddle horses, tally-ho and carriages. Also, from Chicago came members of the Swift, Cudahy and Armour families. Adolphus Pusch and his family, of St. Louis spent that summer and many more at the hotel. From Detroit came the Whitneys, Algers, Newberrys, Campbells and Clarks. During the first week the hotel was taxed to more than capacity with an average of 1,000 guests registered every night. A party of eastern people headed by Commodore Vanderbilt and Chauncey Depew were present for the opening. Governor Cyrus C. Luce of Michigan and his family spent the entire summer at the hotel.

From the Records
The site of the hotel, particularly the ground under the ballroom and lobby, was used for centuries as an Indian burial ground. Not only was ample evidence of this discovered when the hotel foundations were laid but also local history and Indian traditions bear this out. The Indians believed that Island was a sacred gift from their gods as a place for burial of their illustrious dead. Indian chiefs throughout the entire Great Lakes area were brought here for burial. Residents of the Island have described what they themselves saw here many years ago, a few canoes coming in occasionally from far off places bringing Indians and the remains of some departed chief for burial. The funeral cortege seldom spoke to anyone or to each other, going away as silently and mysteriously as they came.

In the construction of the hotel only clear, virgin white pine was used. Timber of this quality is no longer available. It has always been considered the world's finest and most enduring wood. Buildings constructed of this fine timber in New England two hundred years ago still stand without any apparent deterioration of the timbers and walls. Appraisers have reported that the timbers of this hotel are as good as the day it was built.

In 1895, the public spirited Senator Stockbridge wished to see the hotel enlarged but the majority stockholders opposed such plans at that time. The Senator had already interested his brother-in-law James J. Hill in building two great steamships, the Northland and Northwest, for connecting transcontinental traffic at Buffalo with the Hill railroads at Duluth, the steamers stopping en route at Mackinac Island. When the hotel company refused to enlarge its property, Senator Stockbridge interested Mr. Hill in a plan to buy from the government the site of Fort Holmes on the high plateau in the interior of the Island and erect there another large hotel.

Mr. Hill agreed to the plan and between them they made every effort to secure the land from the United States government but were unsuccessful. Instead the government turned over all their Mackinac property to the State of Michigan with the understanding that it would be preserved as a State Park for all time.

Shortly after that the Grand Hotel did proceed with additions to the hotel, and the Senator and Mr. Hill made no further efforts of this kind.

The cedar grove in front of the hotel is a natural growth. These trees were not planted but began their development naturally about 1880. For one hundred years prior to that the site of the grove was used for cleaning fish by local fishermen. The resulting refuse which accumulated created a fertile top soil that gave root to this present luxuriant growth of cedar.

The original hotel structure was approximately one-half its present size. Additions were built in 1897 and 1912. The entire property was remodeled and enlarged in 1919. The hotel grounds comprise 250 acres, or about one-eighth of the island.

The hotel today is approximately 5,000,000 cubic feet in area, the largest summer hotel in the world.

The main building is 680 feet in length. The front porch is the largest in the world. The porch floor is exactly 100 feet above the lake level.

The automatic sprinkler system was installed in 1926 at a cost of $104,000.00. It is the largest fire-protective apparatus ever built. Nine carloads of pipe were used in its construction. The insurance rate was reduced to one-tenth of the former rate by installation of this equipment. The National Fire Protection Association has maintained a complete record of fires in this country for the past twenty-five years. Their record shows where sprinkler equipment has been used, such as is maintained here, every fire has been promptly extinguished. The record shows 100% safety from fire for buildings like the Grand Hotel of today. The record is less favorable in the case of so-called fireproof hotels without this sprinkler protection.

There are 25,000 yards of carpet in the main building. From the east end of the main dining room to the west end of the lobby floor corridor extends the longest piece of carpet ever made. It is two blocks in length.

Costs of Operation

Hotel patrons do not generally realize the extraordinary expense to which fine hotels are subjected in maintaining high standards and superior service. In the case of the Grand Hotel auditors have shown that a saving of $750.00 a day could be made, or a total of $50,000.00 saved every summer by economizing in various departments. This would of course permit lower rates, but would also bring about lower standards of service. Twenty per cent or more could be saved on food costs by using some canned vegetables, ordinary cuts of meat, a few cold storage products, and less elaborate menus. Other plans for economizing would include elimination of the sprinkler system and attendant protection afforded the guests from fire. Twenty-five per cent could be saved on the payroll but with resulting slower and less satisfactory service. Many other savings could be effected, but if these things were done this would not be the Grand Hotel and this institution, just as it has always been in the past, is dedicated to the very best possible service and entertainment for its guests.

With respect to our dining room it is interesting to note that absolutely no cold storage meats or poultry are used.

Fresh caught fish is purchased every day. Strictly fresh vegetables are served, no canned goods being used whatsoever. We make our ice cream and sherbets daily. Only fresh fruits and pure cream are used. We bake all of our bread, rolls and pastry fresh daily.

We carry an unusually elaborate assortment of food on our menus, and serve generous portions of each dish. It is our rule that guests may have more than one portion of any item on the menu if desired. We truly endeavor to serve the finest and largest American Plank menu to be found anywhere.

Back stage or behind the scenes a great miscellany of equipment, machinery and service is maintained with a large staff of employees in charge.

The kitchen is two and one-half stories high. Fifty cooks and employees serve in this department. The ranges are forty-seven feet in length. Seven walk-in coolers and sixteen large ice boxes are used. There is a bake shop, butcher shop, ice cream plant, food storeroom and numerous pantries.

In addition to the food storeroom and several smaller storerooms, there is a large general storeroom for household supplies, a linen room, wine cellar, uniform room, baggage room, printing shop and china room.

Five large dining rooms are operated for the service of employees meals. There are several buildings for housing the three hundred employees. In addition there is the superintendent's residence, stables for fifty horses with numerous carriages and wagons, tool house, heating plant, electric plant, ice house, refrigerating plant, machine shop, wood-working shop, paint shop and the club house which is provided for the entertainment of employees.

On the ground floor is the hotel laundry with twenty employees turning out 7,500 pieces of laundry every day. Adjacent is the tailor shop which provides pressing and dry cleaning service.

Eight offices are required within the hotel for members of the staff and executive offices are maintained the year around in Chicago.

Four or five employees are retained throughout the winter months. From fifty to one hundred employees are in service six weeks before the opening and a similar number for two or three weeks after the close of the season. During the season the number of employees extends up to 312 men and women. Approximately 900 meals a day are served to employees alone. From 1,000 to 2,000 meals are served daily to guests.

Some of the average food supplies used daily include 1,000 pounds of meat, 30 bushels of fruit and vegetables and 150 pounds of butter. From $500.00 to $750.00 of food is used daily.

Because of the large quantities of provisions required, it is necessary to purchase most of the supplies in Detroit and Chicago. The supplies are shipped to the Island generally by steamer, sometimes by rail. Shipping costs average $50.00 a day.

The payroll averages $800.00 a day. The cost of the orchestra is $100.00 a day. Taxes pro-rated through the season amount to $115.00 a day. Electricity, water and coal cost $100.00 every day. The total cost of operation averages about $2,500.00 a day.

The hotel is closed for 81% of the year. The average normal season is only 70 days, probably the shortest season of any resort hotel. It is apparent that a large property open for so short a period should necessarily charge more for its services than the rates charged by similar hotels in the cities, or the rates charged at similar resorts where there is a longer season.

One may also appreciate the difficulty of engaging 300 employees to come 400 to 800 miles north for work which lasts only two months of the year. The employees are largely recruited in Detroit, French Lick and Chicago. During two short months of service the employees must become trained to their duties and adjust themselves to the particular routine and standards of this institution. If there should be occasional mishaps in the service, please consider the peculiar difficulties of operating with so large a staff and for so short a period.

Distinguished Guests

The parlors and rooms of this revered hotel have felt the tread of many illustrious and great men. Each year brings new distinguished guests. Twice within recent years the Governors of the United States have assembled here. Our present day guests include men and women highly prominent in the nation's business and public life.

Among our departed guests whom we would especially commemorate are President Grover Cleveland, President Theodore Roosevelt and President William Howard Taft. Vice President Warren Fairbanks and Vice President Thomas R. Marshall spent many summers here, as did Speaker Joseph Cannon. Speaker Henry T. Rainey last visited the hotel only a month before his death in 1934. General Leonard Wood and his staff made this their headquarters during the summer of 1920 when he was a presidential candidate. General Lewis Seagoood was a regular visitor. Dr. John J. Murphy called this his summer home and suffered here his last illness. The lovable Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) found much enjoyment in his many visits and wrote at length of the hotel in his memoirs. We could continue with many, many names but we close with a roster of just a few of our outstanding guests who made history in the world of business and whose loyalty and love for Mackinac never wavered.

Ogden Armour, Julius Rosenwald, William Waldorf Astor, Marshall Field, Potter Palmer, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Gurdon S. Hubbard, George Pullman, Chauncey Depew, James J. Hill and George Eastman.

A group of men from this company made a trip to Pontiac last week to drive back dump trucks purchased for the MECW. There was a recent purchase of 60 of these G.M.C. trucks for general distribution in lower peninsula CCC camps. The state camps will get 4, of them, four are for the Huron National forest camps, and 10 for the Manistee National forest camps.

George Wolf, MECW foreman here, has been transferred to the new CCC camp at Kalkaska, effective immediately. Chief Foreman M. S. Gerred is losing equipment as well as foremen. Three of the trucks stationed here are to be transferred to other camps and a tractor which he was to receive will also go to the Kalkaska organization instead of here.

Gail Hulett, a rookie from Wexford county, had an emergency operating at Mercy Hospital, Grayling, recently for appendicitis. Lieut. G. M. Katzman sub-district surgeon, was in charge. The patient is now making a satisfactory recovery.

A conference of educational advisers in the fourth forestry sub-district was held at Camp Life Lake Saturday afternoon.

It is planned to start another class for boys interested in radio on Thursday night of this week. Walter McDonald, amateur operator of station W8MFY, is instructor. In the near future another class in first aid is to be organized.

Famous Generals in Arlington
Arlington cemetery, originally the estate of Gen. Robert E. Lee, is now the final resting place of some 25,000 soldiers, including the heroes of the Maine and about 20 soldiers of the Revolutionary war; among the famous men are Generals Sheridan, Crook, Wright and Lawton, and Admirals Sampson, Schley and Dewey.

Camp News

Camp Higgins

Work is progressing rapidly on the new mess hall for this company and within a week or so it will be completed. Construction is directed by G. V. Simpson of Battle Creek.

Over 60 men were home on leaves of absence on the 4th of July and for the remainder of the week. A few men who watered nursery stock will be given another vacation opportunity. Those who remained in camp were taken on swimming trips and to town.

William Sullivan was transferred to the station hospital at Fort Wayne, Detroit, last week. He received extensive second degree burns in a fire at the state garage here the morning of May 1st and since then has been at Mercy Hospital, Grayling. He is making a slow recovery. The company now has four men at the Fort Wayne hospital.

The motor repair unit from Camp Custer was here last week and worked on the trucks in this sub-district.

Cash prizes are being offered enrollees for construction of rustic benches and a design for an archway entrance to the camp.

It is anticipated a new radio class will start in the near future for beginners.

Kirwan A. Jennings of Gladstone, a forestry student, enrolled here last week for the summer vacation period. The regional forester has made arrangements for enrollment of a number of forestry students in the CCC camps for vacation periods so that they may learn something of the practical side of matters they study in the classroom.

Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Igloe of Chicago visited friends here part of last week. They have been in Baltimore recently, where the doctor took instruction in public health work and in the near future he will do this work for the State of Michigan. Formerly Dr. Igloe was the fourth forestry sub-district surgeon.

Gail Hulett, a rookie from Wexford county, was taken to Mercy Hospital, Grayling, Friday night and operated upon for appendicitis by Lieut. G. M. Katzman, the sub-district surgeon.

The ECW warehouse at Roscommon will move to Gaylord July 15.

Nine more recruits were received here last week which brings the company strength to 213, the largest company since its organization. These men are from Missaukee county.

A series of softball games between the several barracks and the MECW personnel was started this week. In addition there is also a horseshoe pitching tournament being arranged. The winners in each event will have a night off to go to town and free admission to the show, according to Lieut. Gill, who made the announcement.

COMPTROLLER GENERAL
CMCARL doesn't care where the chips fall when he starts hawking. He has just given an opinion that ruins the President's plan to require bidders on government contracts to bind themselves to abide by any future legislation providing for minimum wages and maximum hours of labor in employment on such contracts. A proviso to this effect was being exacted of bidders.

Mr. McCarl holds that the proviso may be viewed as a "request" only and a bid could not be rejected because the person making it refused to subscribe to this principle.

The plan was advanced from the procurement division of the treasury, which proposed that the government replace the requirement for code compliance on all government bidders, knocked out when the recovery act was voided by the Supreme court.

THOUGH the naval treaties of Washington and London have been abrogated by Japan, the American government still keeps its eye on the maximum permitted for our navy by 1942 and is making a determined effort to reach it, much to the delight of the "big navy" men and to citizens generally who believe in adequate preparation.

Secretary of the Navy Claude Swanson has announced that a ship construction program has been decided upon which calls for the construction of 12 destroyers and six submarines. These are in addition to the 15 destroyers and six submarines for which bids have been advertised and will be opened next month.

The airplane building program calls for 535 new planes during the current fiscal year. Of these, 282 will be replacement planes for those now in service and 273 will be new craft. Two airplane carriers and six cruisers now under construction and scheduled for completion in 1937 are to house some of the new planes.

FLOODS in several eastern states, following torrential rains, took about three score lives and did vast property damage. The Finger lakes and Catskill mountain regions in New York suffered most severely.

The deaths there numbered forty, and thousands were rendered homeless. Gov. Herbert L. Lehman announced an immediate allocation of $800,000 for use in rehabilitation.

NOBODY who knew Ray Long well was surprised to hear that formerly famous magazine editor had committed suicide at his California home. In late years he had not been very successful in business, his most recent ventures being in the field of scenario writing. He was not one to put up with adversity very long, and it was characteristic of him to take the easy way out of suicide.

OLD JACOB S. COXEY of Massillon, Ohio, is again on his way toward the White House, having been nominated for President by acclamation by a national Farmer-Labor convention in Omaha. To be sure there were only a few delegates, and some of them bolted, and the convention, which was to have lasted five days, had only one session. But it was a regular affair. Leslie Erickson of Minneapolis was chosen to be "General" Coxey's running mate. The platform includes a lot of things, among them being plans for sharing the wealth, inflation and technocracy.

Panama was once the richest city in America. Next to Cartagena it was the most strongly fortified, the walls in places being 60 feet wide and 40 feet high. When Henry Morgan sacked and burned Panama he carried away 175 mule loads of plunder.

YANK YANK EXPLAINS SOME THINGS

WHEN Yank Yank the Nuthatch asked Peter Rabbit if there was anything else he wanted to know, Peter was quite ready for him. "Yes," he retorted promptly, "I want to know how it is that you can walk head first down the trunk of a tree without losing your balance and tumbling off."

Yank Yank chuckled happily. "I discovered a long time ago," he replied, "that the people who get on best in this world are those who make the most of what they have."

to come down a tree they have to back down.

"Now, Old Mother Nature didn't give me a stiff tail but she gave me a very good pair of feet with three toes in front and one behind and when I was a very little fellow I learned to make the most of those feet. Each toe has a sharp claw. When I go up a tree the three front claws on each foot hook into the bark. When I come down a tree I simply twist one foot around so that the three front claws of this foot keep me from falling. It is just as easy for me to go down a tree as to go up, and I can go right around the trunk quite as easily and comfortably." Suiting action to the word, Yank Yank ran around the trunk of the apple tree just above Peter's head. When he reappeared Peter had another question ready.

"Do you live altogether on insects and worms and grubs and their eggs?" he asked.

"I should say not," exclaimed Yank Yank. "I like acorns and beechnuts and certain kinds of seeds."

"I don't see how such a little fellow as you can eat such hard things as acorns and beechnuts," protested Peter a little doubtfully.

Yank Yank laughed right out. "Sometime when I see you over in the Green Forest I'll show you," said he. "When I find a fat beechnut I take it to a little crack in a tree which will just hold it. Then with this stout bill of mine I crack the shell. It really is quite easy when you know how. Cracking a nut open that way is sometimes called hatching, and that is how I came by the name of nuthatch."

We are glad to report the raging fires extinguished here. The crisis had about arrived for Thos. Morris and son; they expected any hour to lose their bungalow.

Mr. and Mrs. Avery and Mr. Goodale are home after the most enjoyable four day trip down the main stream. From reports it was equally as good as down the St. Lawrence.

Where Columbus Met Isabella

It was in the hall of ambassadors, in the Alhambra, in Granada, Spain, that Columbus held his last audience with Queen Isabella before he set sail for the New World. Today, high up on the side of the Alpujarras mountains, the famous Alhambra of the Thirteenth century looks down upon a peaceful countryside.

Lobbying and Virgin Islands Investigations Develop. Lively Scraps—House "Rebels" Are Tame Concerning TVA Amendments.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union

FIFTY thousand dollars was appropriated by the house for investigation by the rules committee of lobbying for and against bills affecting utilities interests.

Representative Rankin of Mississippi declared that Representative O'Connor of New York, chairman of the committee, was unfit to conduct the inquiry because he was antagonistic to the administration. O'Connor, rising to reply, was given an ovation by the house, and promised the investigation would be thorough and impartial.

Already, the committee has begun its work, the first witness being Representative Brewster of Maine, who declared Thomas G. Corcoran, New Deal lawyer, had tried to force him to vote for the "death sentence" provision in the utilities bill by threats of stopping work on the Passamaquoddy project. Corcoran was then put on the stand and denied the main features of Brewster's story, whereupon the Maine congressman shouted, "You're a liar!" Corcoran explained with facility his activities in behalf of the utilities measure. He said he was assigned to help with the original drafting of the bill "through a direct request from the President." Senators Wheeler and Rayburn, he said, asked him to help bring about passage of the bill.

The senate committee on audit and controls reported favorably on a resolution calling for a $50,000 appropriation to investigate lobbying in connection with all legislation at this session, and the resolution was adopted by the senate.

PERHAPS it was the summer heat in Washington; perhaps there was a lot of pressure from the direction of the White House. Anyhow, the "backbones" of the house Democrats, recently so stiff against "dictation" by the administration, weakened most noticeably when the house took up the re-drafting of the Tennessee Valley authority act. Nearly all the recent "rebels" among the Democrats fell into line and the bill was shorn of every major provision that was objectionable to the President. These amendments were approved.

To delete a clause saying the TVA must sell power or chemicals at not less than cost, after July 1, 1937.

To let the TVA operate without absolute control by the comptroller general over its expenditures.

To delete a section preventing the agency from constructing power lines paralleling existing private ones.

To let the authority decide whether private interests may build dams or appurtenant works on the Tennessee river or tributaries.

This victory greatly heartened the administration forces, and they pressed forward to try for another bill. Also in the senate they carried on a determined fight for the amendments broadening the powers of the AAA. Senators Borah and Byrd were the chief opponents of the New Dealers in this latter battle.

ONE of the hottest scraps of the year developed between Secretary of the Interior Ickes and Senator Tydings of Maryland over the inquiry into the administration of Gov. Paul M. Pearson in the Virgin Islands. The secretary accused the senator of "white-washing" a witness before the Tydings committee; and the senator retorted by advising the secretary to "confine yourself to the duties for which you have been appointed." Both of them were thoroughly angry, and Tydings in a letter accused Ickes of seeking "cheap publicity."

Federal Judge T. Webber Wilson of the Virgin Islands had given testimony that exasperated Ickes and the secretary demanded that the judge be removed from office for "official misconduct." Then Ickes wrote Tydings a letter carrying his charge of "white-washing" and saying "There was no cross-examination to test his truthfulness, and if any statement ever needed such a test, it was his."

Judge Wilson had told the committee that there had been "administrative interference" with his court and that Morris Ernst, counsel for the Civil Liberties union, while a guest of Governor Pearson, had threatened to put him "on the spot" in the press unless he granted a rehearing to a government employee accused of theft.

Tydings accused Secretary Ickes of "gross deceit upon the American people" by stating in an interior department press release that Paul C. Yates, administrative assistant of Pearson, had been discharged, when "you know and I know that Mr. Yates had resigned five days before your press release was issued."

TO PROVIDE quick employment and end the dole, the entire four-billion-dollar works-relief fund must be expended within the next twelve months. Such was the flat statement of President Roosevelt to the state PWA directors, who were gathered in Washington for a two-day conference. After discussing the old PWA program, the President said: "You are now an important part of an even greater effort—one to be made during the next year which will provide quick employment, so that we can attain, if possible, the goal we have set within this year 1935. Before the year is ended we will end the dole we have been paying to employable persons during the last two years. In other words, we must give useful work to three and one-half million people and I believe we are going to do it."

"In order to do it, of course, we are faced by a problem of arithmetic which is comparatively simple. We have four billion dollars and three and one-half million people to put to work with it. That means we have to average things up. It means that we have on the average about $1,140 per man year."

"That has to include the cost of the material, so that the four billion dollars includes not only the amount we pay the men but also the cost of the material. It is a perfectly simple arithmetic problem—we have to work out an average that will come within the sum of money divided by the number of people we have to put to work."

"You know, of course, that we have spent a great deal of money during the last two years, but we find now not only that there are additional funds at our disposal but also that the need of permanent work all over the United States is not yet ended. We find that the deeper we go into it the more opportunities we have to do constructive work in almost every community in the country."

STANDING atop a cannon, Benito Mussolini told 15,000 Black Shirts volunteers and the world as well that in the matter of Ethiopia, "We have decided upon a struggle in which we as a government and a people will not turn back. The decision is irrevocable."

Unless Emperor Haile Selassie gets right down on his knees to Il Duce, the war in his dominion will begin in September when the rainy season ends. No one expects the "king of kings" to submit himself to other nations as advising their nationals in Ethiopia to get out of the country. William Perry George, the American charge d'affaires at Addis Ababa, was authorized by the State department to advise American citizens to leave, or take whatever other steps he deemed necessary to protect their safety. Nearly all these Americans are connected with Seventh Day Adventist and United Presbyterian missions.

Mr. George transmitted to the emperor the rather curt reply of the American government to his majesty's appeal for aid in stopping Italy. Secretary of State Hull, writing by authority of the President, told the emperor the United States was "loath to believe" the two countries actually will engage in warfare as they are both signatories of the Kellogg pact. The note also pointed out that the arbitration proceedings might arrive at a satisfactory decision.

The chances that war might be averted by the arbitrators seemed slight. Those gentlemen met again at Scheveningen and their session was disrupted by the Italian representatives when a spokesman for Ethiopia set forth the fact that the United Nations council to threaten out the dispute with Italy. At the same time the emperor appealed to the world for fair play and protested to five European powers against their refusal to permit the shipment of arms and munitions to Ethiopia.

Emperor Haile Selassie made another attempt to get international action by calling for a meeting of the League of Nations council to threaten out the dispute with Italy. At the same time the emperor appealed to the world for fair play and protested to five European powers against their refusal to permit the shipment of arms and munitions to Ethiopia.

CRITICS of the President's program have made up their minds that he is deliberately building up a "crisis" which will provide excuse for a demand for constitutional amendments in the campaign of 1938. Their conviction was strengthened by Mr. Roosevelt's letter to Congressmen Samuel B. Hill, chairman of the interstate commerce subcommittee, urging the passage of the Gulf coast bill regardless of doubts as to its constitutionality. President Roosevelt followed the suggestion of Attorney General Cummings that the legislation should be put through congress because "the situation is so urgent," and that the question of constitutionality should be left up to the courts.

STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Half Year Plates Go On Sale Soon

On Thursday, July 25, automobile license plates for 1935 will go on sale at half price. Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State, has announced. The plates will be available from that date on, at the Department of State, and all branch offices throughout Michigan.

Cars that have been on the highways without 1935 plates have been equipped with 1935 half-year permits or "stickers." Cars placed in operation on the highways prior to July 25 must be equipped either with half-year permits or with 1935 plates purchased at full price. It is pointed out.

Owners of cars which have been equipped with half-price "stickers" have at all times had available the privilege of purchasing 1935 plates upon payment of the balance of the 1935 license plate tax. But in any event, "stickers" must be replaced with 1935 plates by midnight, July 31, Atwood warns. No extension of time can be granted without express authorization of the legislature. Motorists are asked to bring their "sticker" registration certificates with them when they apply for their 1935 license plates.

Auto Industry
Boosted In New
S. O. Ad Campaign

A significant new idea—one industry advertising another's products—is presented to the public and the business world in an intensive summer advertising campaign which Standard Oil Company is launching in daily and weekly newspapers throughout its territory, beginning July 16.

Appearing at regular intervals throughout the campaign are ads in which the oil company addresses owners of various makes of new cars representing approximately ninety per cent of the new car registrations this year, congratulating them on their choice. The ads are mainly composed of illustrations dramatizing meritorious features of the particular car under discussion.

However, gasoline is not neglected. It appears in copy which gives the result of an impartial certified survey showing the company's products to be used by a greater number of salesmen in demonstrating the make of car featured in the particular ad than any competitive products.

Concerning the new campaign, Allan Jackson, vice president in charge of marketing, states: "With this year's new car registrations exceeding those of any of the past five years, it is apparent that the automotive industry is one of the main leaders toward business recovery. Through use of its large newspaper advertising circulation to promote its allied industry Standard Oil believes it can contribute further impetus to the automotive industry's vigorous industrial leadership, with benefits to not only the automotive and oil industries but general industrial recovery as well."

Interspersed with the automobile ads are others giving actual information about the company's gasoline. The series also contains motor oil ads setting forth the requirements a good oil must satisfy in the heat of summer, and illustrating how Standard's oils meet these demands.

Grange Notes

A busy and interesting meeting of Crawford County Grange No. 934 was well attended at the regular hour Saturday. Four new members were given the third and fourth degrees, Mr. and Mrs. George Skingley, Mrs. A. Richter and Dale L. Parker.

The annual baked good contest and sale will be held during the Homecoming, Wednesday, July 17, at the Schlotz grocery. Many good things will be judged and sold. Winners will participate in a similar contest at the State Grange convention at Big Rapids in October. Remember that one of our members carried away a nice prize from the State Grange last year, others are to try and do as well.

Plans have been made for the annual picnic to be held at Otsego Lake State Park in August, with neighboring Granges invited to make it a great day.

Holly Hubble, associate editor of the Michigan Patron recently called on members here in the interest of Grange work.

Dinner at 12:00 each meeting. Don't be late.

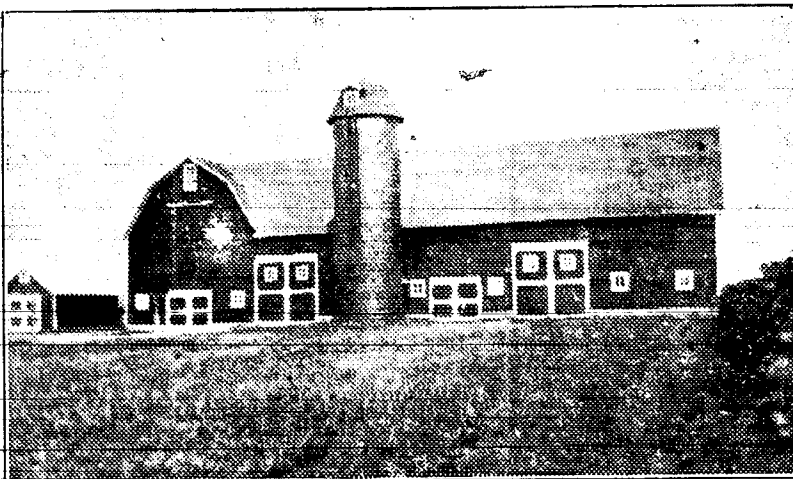

Before the Storm — and After!
If It Had Been Your Barn --- Then What?

The owners of this beautiful piece of property had the good business sense and the foresight to have Windstorm Insurance with this 50-year-old company.

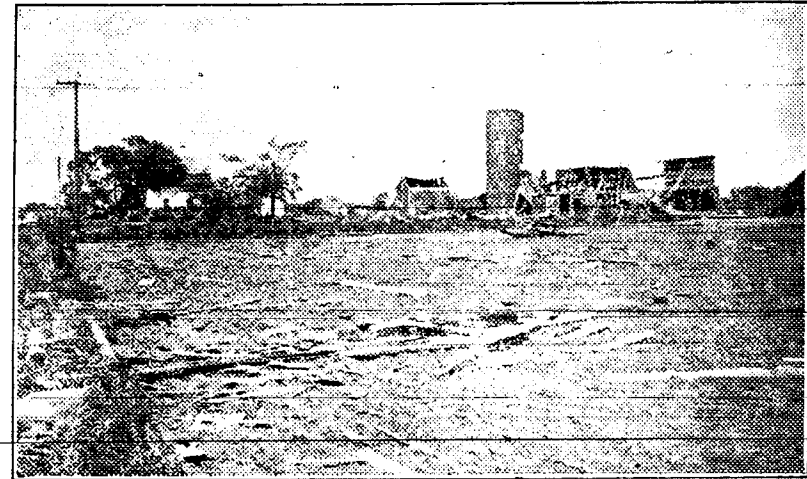

Year after year the frequency of severe windstorms in Michigan should impress every property owner with the importance of having windstorm insurance against loss.

If you have no Windstorm or Cyclone insurance write us at once or see one of our many agents — you cannot know how soon just such a storm as the one that wrecked this barn may destroy your property in a like manner.

This Company Paid This Policy-holder Over $5,000.00

This fine barn belonged to Theo. C. and Pearl Curtis, Sec. 3, Mundy township, Genesee County. This was of A-1 construction and as you see by the above picture was always kept in best of repair. No barn was ever better built to resist wind than this.

This is the same barn as shown in the opposite picture just after the cyclone of May 28, 1935. The destruction was complete and this picture shows all that remains of this $24,000—32x50 foot barn. The loss to the barn and other property amounted to $5,112.00, paid June 11, 1935.
